Welcome Letter & Overview

From The Desk Of Terry Duff

I want to personally thank you for your purchase of "The Speed Recruiting System".

This product has been a long time in the works and is going to open up a whole new world for you in your business building efforts.

At the core of this system it's about filling up hotel rooms or a meeting space elsewhere. Most people assume when one discusses hotel rooms it's the "traditional" bring your friends and family so they can get "pitched".

Well, this system doesn't involve friends and family or anything of the sort.

Welcome to a totally new world and a new take on a very old technique.

This was specifically designed to be "short and sweet". I don't want you to experience information overload and I didn't want to create a 96 page eBook with half of it fluff and meaningless chatter that had nothing to do with the system at hand.

Who needs more books and hours upon hours of online video that they can store on their computer anyway?

It's concise and to the point.

I'm confident you're going to thoroughly enjoy "The Speed Recruiting System" and most importantly I know that when you put it to use, you're going to be blown away.

At the core of the system it's about placing ads online in locations that I give you. You will use these ads to generate calls for people responding to your help wanted ads. You will qualify the candidates and then hold a group interview using the training material contained within this product.

The next item you'll want to go through is "The Speed Recruiting System" Presentation Template.

Once again, thank you for your purchase.
