
PayMe
:Instant Profit Spree

PayPal is a service that everyone who has been online for any amount of time knows about. If for some reason you don't know what PayPal is, or you have not signed up for an account, then you should know that it is service that allows people to make transactions online securely. With PayPal you can not only buy certain products, but you can use PayPal as a gateway, to offer your own products and get paid instantly. Since PayPal has been around for such a long time, it is trusted and it puts users at ease, knowing that a professional service is over their money distribution. Another thing that people can do is send money to other users of PayPal.

That is what we will focus on in this exclusive report. Sending money through PayPal. Now we will not be using the original PayPal website. What we will be using is a new platform, just introduced by PayPal called PayPal.me. This new platform is modern and easier way to get people to pay you or send you money that you are owed.

See PayPal acquired a mobile payment app last year called Venmo, that has been a popular option with people that use smartphone devices. Venmo is an app that allows users to request and send money with the tap of a few buttons. This makes it an easier way to send money, instead of having to log on to PayPal.com and taking time to fill out a form, which can be a hinderance to people paying you back faster.

What PayPal.me was created to do was integrate the Venmo app into the PayPal.com platform. This becomes an easier way to request your money from someone or simply use a specific link, to send money to people that you owe. It's free to sign up with PayPal.me and after that you can create your own unique link. Once you get your own personalized link, you can email it, text it, tweet it or post it where ever you want online. When the person gets the link, they can pay right there on the spot, making it much more faster to get paid instantly.

By now you should be getting a clue as to how we being Internet Marketers, can use this new service to or advantage. That is what we will be focusing on in this exclusive report. Since this unique link goes back to your PayPal.com account, you can have people paying you through your link directly. This makes spreading out your link online to potential customer more profitable.

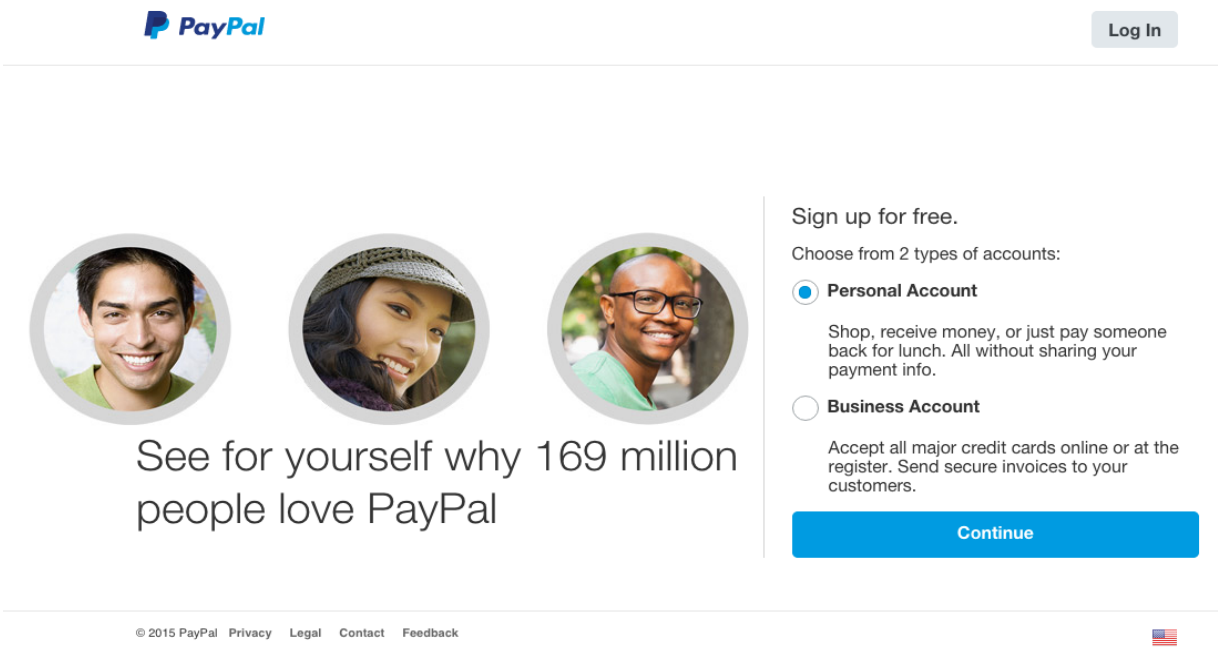

PayPal.me allows users to send the request themselves directly from their own email or phone number. Since most people are in constant proximity to their smart devices at any given time, this makes getting paid, so much easier. Now you can collect money instantly.

Being online as a product creator or even an affiliate, you have to sometimes wait for your payment processor that you are affiliated with, to pay you. This can be a Net15 or Net30, which means that even if you make a sale that day, you still have to wait 2 weeks or at the end of the month to get paid. When you have bills that need to be paid or you just need your money right then and there, then PayPal.me becomes the best option, to get paid instantly.

How Does PayPal.me work?

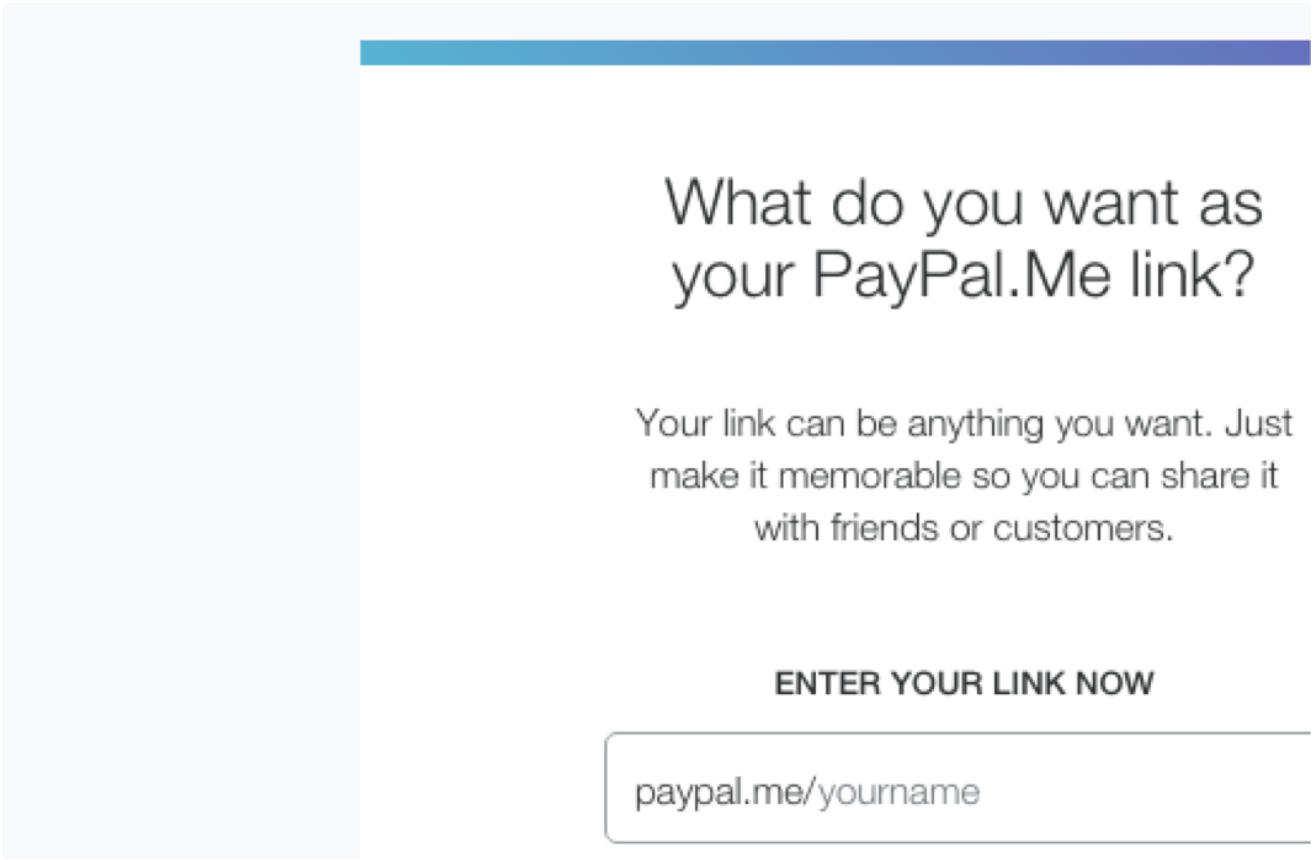

All you have to do is sign up for a PayPal.com account which is free, if you don't already have one. When you get to PayPal.com, select Personal Account even if you have a product to sell. Then click Continue and finish filling out the form and you will be set up and ready to go, to use the PayPal.me service.

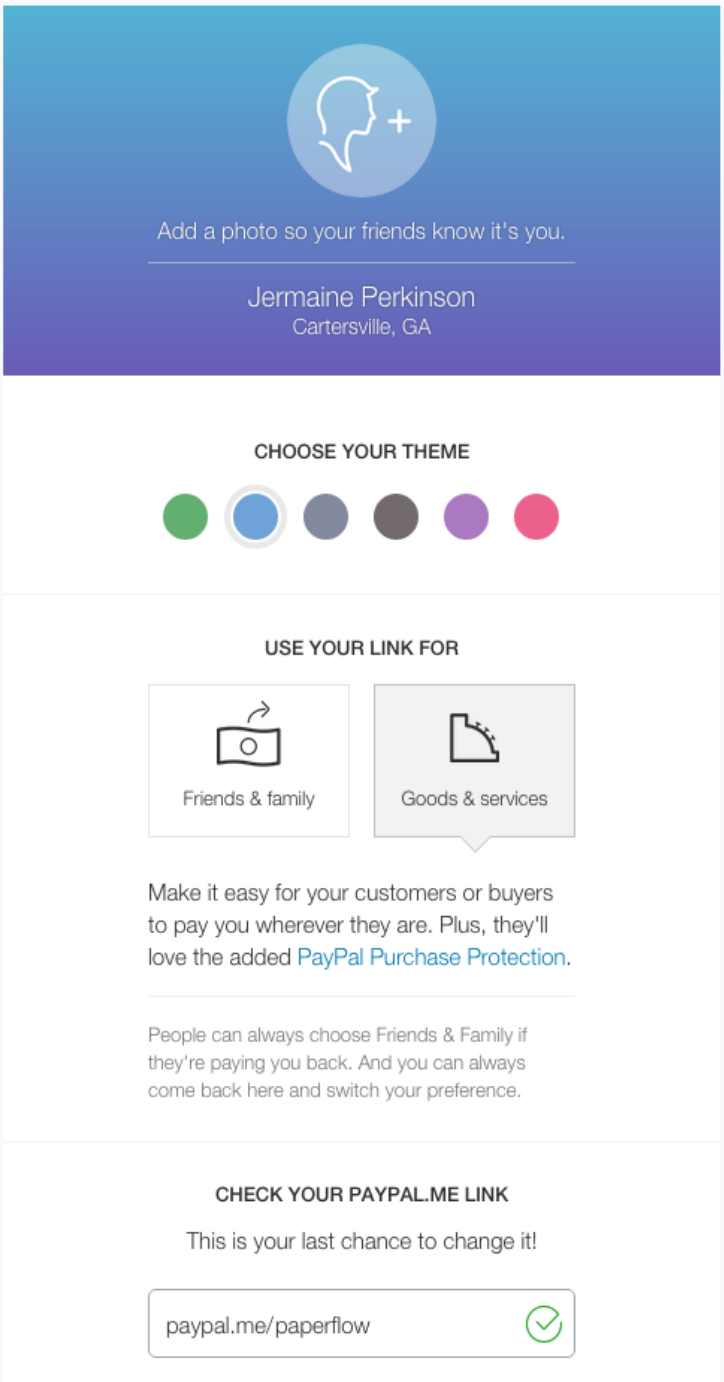

Now that you are set up with your PayPal.com Personal Account then go to PayPal.me. Once there, you click on Get Started.

You will be directed to a page like the screenshot below. All you have to do is make your own personalized unique link. After that, you will put in your PayPal.com account information to link your unique PayPal.me link with your PayPal Personal Account. When you make your link, you have to choose one that is personalized to you or it may already be taken. If that is the case, just make it something else that will help you remember what the link is for.

Once you fill out your PayPal.com information on the next page, you will be directed to the page below. On this page you can upload your picture, so that people know that the payment request is coming from you. If you are sending money, click Friends or Family. For us however, we want to click on Goods & services. This will allow us to get paid instantly through our link. If for some reason you want to change your link, you can do so on this page, as this will be the last time you can change it.

Once your link is set and ready to go, now you can share your very own PayPal.Me link (paypal.me/YourName). It is this link that you will give to your customers and they can send you money for any service or product that you have for sale. It is with this link that we will find out in this exclusive report, many ways to get paid online.

What makes this better than the old way to send money through PayPal.com is that your customers don’t have to know your email address or mobile phone number, or even have the PayPal app to send you money. Now all they have to do is click or tap on your link, go to your PayPal.Me, type in the amount, and send the money.

If you have your own business, then you also have the option to set up a PayPal.Me/YourBusiness and get paid quickly for the goods or services you sell. With the business account however, you can only choose the Goods & services payments option. You don't have to do that however, for what we are doing, we just want a way to get your customers to purchase through your link, and you will get paid instantly. So for now, you will choose the personal PayPal.me option.

Your Unique Link

When it comes to your link, you can have it for long as you want, and it will never expire. You do want to be choose your personalized link carefully, as you can't change it once you have created it. You can turn your link on and off whenever you choose to do so.

Make sure not to use anything offensive or derogatory, or else your account can be suspended, so keep it clean and use something that reflects the purpose of what you are using your link for.

Another thing you need to be aware of is that you only get one active link per PayPal.com account. You can however make this link active or non active whenever you want.

You don't need a bank account to use this service, but you'll need to link your bank account or debit/ credit card in your PayPal.com Personal Account, to send money or withdraw the money you receive. If you have your bank account linked to PayPal account, then you can transfer the funds instantly to your bank.

Since the money goes straight to your PayPal account, you can log on to find out what your balance is. This will be the same as any other PayPal transaction. You can also log on to your PayPal.me account to check your balance.

When you set up your PayPal.Me link as a "Friends & Family," it's free for you to receive money from people in your same country. If you choose the Goods and services option there is a standard PayPal fee of (2.9% + $0.30)

If the person paying you back with the "Friends and Family" option, then chooses PayPal Purchase Protection, the payment then becomes a "Goods and Services" payment and you'll have to pay the standard PayPal fee.

How to Make Money With PayPal.me?

Ok, now that we understand what PayPal.me and how it operates, now we need to find out how we can actually go about making some money with this new platform. What we want to do is, use the latest IM strategies to utilize this service to our advantage.

Below we will go through the many ways you can make money, as soon as today and have money sent directly to your bank account. This money can be used to pay bills, spend however you want, or put back into your ad spend, to send even more people to your unique link and make more money.

I Product Creation and Upsell

1.. If you are a product creator and have a product, one thing that you can do with your PayPal.me link, is pitch your product with a discount. Offering your customers a discount, will go a long way to building up trust, in you and your brand. Customers love knowing they are getting something at a lower price. All you have to do is let them know the regular price of your product and then reduce the cost. Let them know that if they order through your unique link only, they will get a discount for your product.

2. If you are not a product creator or don't have a product, then you can offer One-on- One coaching. This can also be added to any product you may have as an upsell. This will add value to your front-end product. People in IM, charge from $500 to $10,000 for One-on-One coaching. Some charge even more, but this is around the average. Use Google Hangouts to do live calls to your prospects. Using Google Hangouts is easy to use. Just go to https://hangouts.google.com/ and follow the instructions on how to get started so that you can speak to your potential prospects and get paid.

3. Another upsell option would be to offer a paid Skype call. Being able to give your prospects personal access to you, allows you to charge a premium price for your time. When you Skype, you can charge from $100 to $5,000 an hour, depending on the perceived value of your information. On Skype you have the option to do voice calls and video calls. You can choose which will work best for you. To get started, go here http://www.skype.com/en/ (for English countries) sign up to Skype, if you haven't already. It's free to sign up. Use this as your platform to offer your paid Skype call. Just give your prospect your unique PayPal.me link to get paid instantly into your account.

4. Having a low cost front end product, will allow you to promote a product like a bootcamp, that you can create with a discount. Of course this would be an upsell that you can charge a few hundred to a few thousand for. Your customers will welcome a discount to a high ticket offer. A bootcamp usually has PDFs in modules or videos that your customer can access. All you would need to do is after your customer pays for your low end front product, then send them to a page describing your bootcamp product, and then have your PayPal.me link, in order to get paid straight to your PayPal account.

I Solo Product Creation

5. When you create a product, a way to get interest in it initially, is offer a pre-launch. One way to offer this pre-launch to your customers is use a PayPal.me link. You will offer a pre-launch discount for those who get on board early. By having a product in demand that customers can get access to for a discount, will get the interest needed upfront, so when you launch your product, people are already familiar with it. All you would do is set-up a page on your website for your pre-launch and let people know how long it's going to be available for the discount. Place your personalized link on this page and receive payments to your account, as soon as they pay.

6. As a product creator, you probably have products that you have sold, and put back on the shelf. Well now you can blow the dust off these old offers by revitalizing them with a PayPal.me link. With this, you would take an old course you used to offer, and spruce it up a little bit with the latest strategies that you can look up online. Just repurpose your old content and add version 2, part 2 or change the title completely, to make it unique to your customers. Also add some new updated graphics to your product, which can be gotten for a small price at fiverr.com. You would then change out your old payment processing links and replace those with your new PayPal.me link.

7. Another way to add value for your customers, and make you more moolah is create a bulk discount PayPal.me link deal. To do this, you will take a few of your courses, and offer a bulk discount for purchasing them all at the same time. With this strategy, you want to make sure your bundled products are congruent, or at least have something to do with each other. You don't want to put a weight loss product, bundled up with IM products. Just keep it consistent.

8. Another thing you can do if you don't have a bunch of products to offer your customers, is to sign up for a PLR membership site. With a PLR site, you can choose from an assortment of ebooks and products, focused on specific niches. When you sign up to these membership sites, you pay a monthly fee, in order to get the best products. Some PLR websites will allow you to join free, but in order to get the newest premium products, there maybe a monthly fee. Just take the best products from a particular niche and then add them as bundle on your site. With PLR, the most effective way to use these products, is to have different graphics for the products to make them unique to your buying customers. Once you have this set up, set a higher price for retail value, but let your customers know that you are giving them a discount. Once you place your unique link on this page, you are ready to start receiving money.

9. There are always times where you can add seasonal promotions, like Black Friday, Cyber Monday, etc. with a PayPal.me link deal. Whenever that seasonal time period comes about, you can offer a discount on your products or services.

This will help you get buyers fast because one is a discount, and people love getting discounts, especially during seasonal promotions. Most consumers already have their credit card in hand, ready to shop online. You just need to show up with your discount PayPal.me link and a good offer to have money deposited to your account.

Crowd Funding

10. If you have not heard of crowd funding, you must just be coming from up under a rock, or haven't dabbled online in IM. This is a way for people to give you money for a particular issue. You would ask for support for whatever issue you may have, or even during a health crisis. All you need to do is use your PayPal.me link. Once they send you the money, it is yours to keep. Of course if your issue is real, you would want that money to go to that issue, or health crisis.Your link makes it easier for people to send you the money instantly.

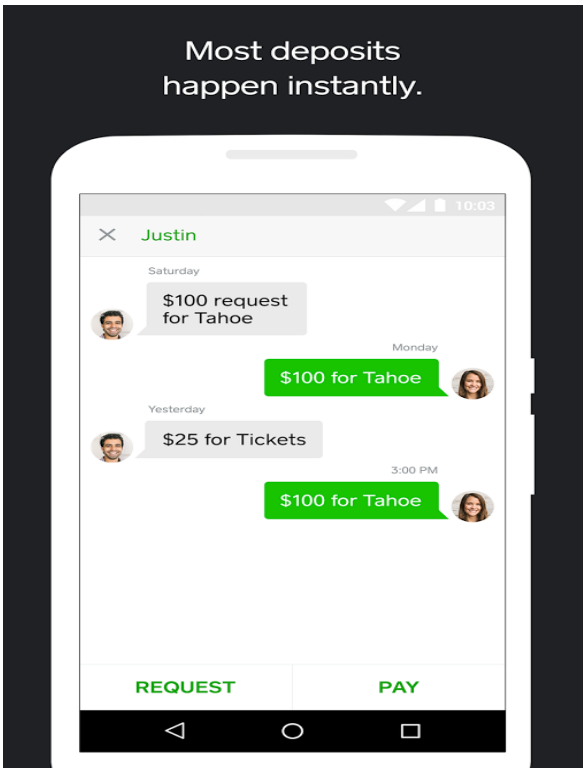

11. Another way to use crowd funding is to ask for support for other colleague's health crisis. When you do this, make sure you have your link available. By letting people know that the money they are sending is for a very important reason, most of the time people will not hesitate to offer you money. If you don't have an issue or health crisis, then find someone who does. After you collect the funds allocate the money needed for the issue and the rest you can keep for the services you provided for this person.

12. When it comes to crowd funding, there are incentives that will prompt people to give donations and that is to give away something. One thing that you can give away is your own product for free when it is released. Just give them the ability to get your newly-to- be-released product for free, for donating to your crowd funding project. This is a great incentive to get people to give money on your behalf, and if you set it up through your unique link to receive payments, then you can have that money sent instantly to your account.

13. There may be a charity dear to your heart that you would like to raise money for. If you have a cause in mind, more than likely there is a charity for it. You can ask for charity donations for your favorite charity. This is an effective way to get people through your link, and do some good work for someone in need. Let everyone know the charity that's dear to you, make a unique link for it, and then post it to all the different places you think those people would be interested. Some of the best places are on websites, Facebook, twitter, forums, and You Tube.

I How To Get Paid From Friends, Family or Colleagues

14. If for some reason you have dinner reservations that you want to discuss business over, or to become more acquainted with colleagues or business partners, then there is way to collect everyone's money at the same time. Now this is a way to collect money, but if you want to make money with this method, then charge everyone a little extra as a fee, for your service, to make it easier for them. Just let them know you have a unique link that they can pay through and since you get fees for certain transactions, then ask for extra money. Then use your unique link to collect the group's dinner money.

15. You can also use your new link to collect retirement party money. Just let people know what your budget is for the party, this way you can use your link to make sure everyone you sent it to pays. You can send the link to their phone, through texts, through email, or even on Facebook. If you want to earn money from this method, then you would of course ask for more than what it would cost to throw the party. After all, you are the event co-ordinator and you should get paid for your efforts.

16. If you are good at party planning and things like that, then you can get paid right away for your services using your link. A good way to do this is by collecting money for a baby/marriage/celebration party. Since these parties can run into the thousands, you can make money by getting the money upfront, and then using it to pay for the party. What you have left over, you can put into your bank account for your services rendered. As a matter of fact, you can turn this into a business, by offering your services locally through your newspaper or any other local ad channel.

17. You can use your link to collect Fundraiser money, so you don't have to buy Girl Scout cookies or Marching Band Candles. Just let the people know that you are into fundraising and let them know your cause. Offer them your unique link and if the cause is worthy, expect money to be hitting your PayPal account that day.

How To Make Money With Seminars

18. You may have something that you want to share with the world that would be helpful. The best way to monetize your knowledge is to have a paid seminar. What you would do is put an ad in your local newspaper, talking about your niche, and then letting your potential customers know, if they pay before the actually date, they will get a discount. Have them either come to your website for more information, or have your unique link in the ad, where they pay right then and there, to attend your seminar.

19. Another way to make money with seminars is to offer it for free. By offering your seminar for free, it will attract more attendees, however it might not be that many buying customers in the audience, it will work out with the averages of having more people attend. Just have an upsell once you are through giving your presentation. You can offer One -on-One Coaching, a high ticket product, a membership product, services that may be helpful to your attendees, etc. for more ideas, see the earlier options to make more money with your unique PayPal.me link.

20. With seminars, you can charge even higher prices, if you have a seminar that lasts more than one day. The best way to do this is have very valuable content to deliver to your audience. Then once you get to the best part of your presentation, stop the seminar and tell your audience to get the second day information, that they must attend your special V.I.P. Presentation that only paying members will be able to access. They will be eager to get this new information, not only that, they will feel compelled to return the favor of delivering great content. Have them pay through your link right there on the spot. Depending on your information and niche, you can charge anywhere from $50 to $5,000. This will be money going instantly into your account. You can do this each week and have a full time income.

How To Make Money With Live Streaming and Videos

21. If you're on the latest "Periscope / Meerkat / Blab / Live Streaming" craze... While on a live broadcast, sometimes you ask people to tap the screen or "like" the broadcast for appreciation. Well now you can easily say "Hey, if you thought this content was valuable, send me a donation to {insert paypal.me link here}."

22. A well known guru E. Brian Rose (co-founder of JVZoo) recently posted on FB that once he sent a PDF short report to his email list and attached it to the email as a test. In the email he said "Here's my latest report. The cost of this report is $7. If you like it, click the link below and pay me. If you don't like it, please delete it from your hard drive."

This resulted in over 200 sales from a list of about 2,500 subscribers!
With your new PayPal.me link, doing that just got 3x easier.

23. We all know YouTube videos can bring mad traffic but aside from ads it's hard to monetize without creating a web page to send viewers to. Now you can make videos and put your PayPal.me link in the description for donations if they like the video.

24. Another idea with You Tube videos is to have a 2 part series, where you leave a cliffhanger at the end of the first video, and then ask for payment to view the second half of your video. By leaving people in suspense, it will certainly make them curious to want to see the rest of the video, especially if the information is useful and compelling. At the end of your video, you will have your unique link available, once they pay, give them access to part 2 of your video. At the end of this report, you will find a way to link your PayPal to your phone, so that you will be instantly notified as soon as you get a payment through your PayPal.me link.

Well hopefully you have seen that you can use this new PayPay platform to get money paid instantly to your account. Take your time and go through each one of these strategies, and then put the best option for you to use, to start making money today. If you have valuable information to share, then you can make a full time income out of it. This is one of the quickest ways that you can make full time income, online and offline. It won't happen if you put this exclusive report down, and don't put it to use. If you want the fastest way to make money, this is it. I wish you well in all your money making endeavors.
